

VOLUNTEERING

Volunteering is a great way to support the local arts network. You can gain valuable career-relevant experience in a gallery setting, and meet new people who are also interested in contemporary visual art. We have a wide variety of volunteer positions with flexible hours. Additionally, we reward 10 hours of volunteer time with a free one-year membership.

About The New Gallery

Since 1975, The New Gallery has been a pioneering non-profit centre for contemporary art in Calgary. We promote a public engagement with contemporary art by supporting the research, creation, exhibition, and proliferation of critically challenging, conceptually informed, and forward looking work by artists at all junctures of their careers. Our programming comprises a broad range of art activities, community collaborations, open discussions, and educational initiatives that serve to invigorate our audience's experience of contemporary art and culture.

Becoming a member

The New Gallery has thrived through the tireless dedication and collective energy of its community members. You are a vital part of the future of artist-run culture in Calgary.
